Superintendent's Report

Student and Public Comment

- Rachael Hall: requested that the Board keep Pioneer in its current location. Ms. Hall spoke of the role Pioneer played with her family and added that it was a critical place of support. She submitted a letter from a psychiatrist and photos in support of Pioneer. The proposed locations were not safe for the children. She asked the Board to listen to the parents of Pioneer children and believe in them.
- Mauricio Somilleda: spoke of his experiences at PPS as a Latino and especially with Jefferson High School. Equity does not really show up. Where are the Latino students going after graduating from Jefferson? They have dismantled every CTE option at the school. He asked the Board to pay closer attention to the Latino community.
- Bernardino De La Torea-Guerrero: stated he has a student at Jefferson High School, and there was a lack of equity, particularly with Spanish speaking families. He has filed complaints and now feels that he is targeted by the administration and discriminated against, just for speaking up for Spanish speaking families. He recommended that the District perform an independent investigation on the services being provided to Spanish speaking families.
- Casey Anderson: hypocrisy, discrimination, and racism has been used for the Pioneer decision. She cannot see any equity being considered in the decision. It is not about what the students need, but what the Superintendent wants to do. The entire process reeks of Jim Crow policies. Only the white children will receive a full library and hot meals from the cafeteria.
- Greg Burill: stated he has testified for years before the Board and has repeatedly spoken about forgiveness. There has been a level of dysfunction in the District and the memory does not fade. Unless the District creates a culture of trust and respect as its primary vision, it won't matter how you try to fix the District. Pioneer was designed and built for the special needs children; you will pay the price if those students are moved to inadequate spaces.
